Automatic Dog Waterer For Outside Faucets

“COMPLETELY ASSEMBLED—NO TOOLS REQUIRED”

Trojan Specialty Products "Automatic Dog Waterer" for your outside faucet is suitable for use with any size dog. When a dog wants water they simply lick, bite or move the trigger in any direction, which will activate the fresh water flow from the center of the trigger. When the dog stop's licking, biting or moving the trigger it will shut off the water flow.

The water flows from the center of the trigger thus directing the water into the dog's mouth. It will provide a clean fresh drink of water each time the dog wants a drink of water.

Although many dogs are naturally curious and will quickly learn how to use the waterer other dogs will require additional education to learn how to activate the waterer. To train your dog how to use the waterer:

- Remove all other sources of water from the area.
- Leave the faucet connector loosely attached to the faucet so water will seep past the threads. The slowly dripping water will attract the dog to the nipple.
- Every few hours manually push the trigger to the side and activate the water flow in front of your dog.
- Monitor the dog carefully during the training period to confirm that he/she has learned to activate the water flow and is getting adequate supply of water.
- Once the dog has learned how to activate the trigger just simply tighten the brass connector to the faucet to stop the leaking water.

This unit is not recommended for outside use in winter weather. The waterer must be removed in colder weather and used again in warmer weather during the spring, summer and fall months. If it is allowed to freeze it will do damage to the waterer and possibly your outside faucet.
